

Supplement D to NARA 108
Online Information Collection
Specific Procedures

1. How do I develop and secure approval of online forms?

Online forms are covered by the procedures described in Supplements A through C. Follow the instructions in the supplement that relates to the target population for the proposed online form.

2. What if the online form is a survey?

[Reserved.]

3. Are online information collections subject to the Information Technology Investments approval process?

Online information collections are subject to information technology investments (ITI) approval process delineated in NARA 801, if they are dependent on a new system or modification of an existing system as described in par. 801.6. (See NARA 801 for an explanation of the ITI approval process.)